CLASH OF THE TITANS

Composed and Conducted by LAURENCE ROSENTHAL

Intrada INT 3005

Intrada's new vinyl release -- Clash of the Titans -- includes premium 180-gram vinyl album and deluxe UV-coated, full-color gatefold jacket with artwork title on the spine, and enclosed in a polywrap bag.

Laurence Rosenthal's powerful and exciting score for the 1981 feature Clash Of The Titans remains the pinnacle of his lengthy and distinguished career. Exhilarating, soaring, colorful...it's every bit as dynamic and effervescent as a fantasy score should be. Originally released on LP by the Columbia Records label and subsequently on CD by PEG, and as a 2-CD expanded CD from Intrada a few years ago. Until the Intrada CD, the score had yet to be presented in its complete form, omitting, among other things, the darker, more aggressive side of the score. Amongst the treasure-trove of riches unearthed by Intrada for the earlier Intrada CD and this vinyl release: the entire "Medusa" sequence, the lengthy "The Quest" music, sparkling ideas for the weapons given to Perseus and several action cues written for fight scenes between Perseus and various Ray Harryhausen creations.

Clash of the Titans stars Harry Hamlin as the demigod Perseus, colorfully chronicling his quest to slay the Gorgon Medusa and rescue the princess Andromeda from a terrible sea monster. It was the last film by Ray Harryhausen, also known for the fantasies The 7th Voyage of Sinbad and Jason and the Argonauts.
